Dodge Magnum Earns Edmunds.com's Ninth Annual Editors' Most Wanted Award

December 1, 2006, Los Angeles, Calif. -

Edmunds.com, the premier online resource for automotive information, named the 2007 Dodge Magnum as Edmunds.com Editors' Most Wanted Wagon Under $30,000.

"The Editors' Most Wanted winners provide class-leading performance, quality, style and value," said Karl Brauer, Editor-in-Chief at Edmunds.com. "These are the vehicles that our editorial team would chose to have in our own driveways."

In selecting the 2007 Dodge Magnum, Edmunds.com's editorial staff proclaimed that "the Magnum can't be beat for a combination of pleasure and practicality." This is the third time the Dodge Magnum has received this accolade from Edmunds.com.

The award was presented to Frank Klegon, Executive Vice President – Product Development, Chrysler Group at the Los Angeles Auto Show.

"We are pleased Dodge Magnum has earned another 'Most Wanted' award from Edmunds.com," said Klegon. "While Chrysler Group is in the midst of launching 10 all-new vehicles, the 2007 Dodge Magnum continues to offer the right formula of proportions, packaging, performance and appearance that sets it apart from the competition.

"Offering family transportation that is big, bold, powerful and full of life, there's still nothing like Dodge Magnum in the marketplace."

The Edmunds.com Editors' Most Wanted Awards have been awarded annually since 1999. Winners are named for the Most Significant Vehicle of the Year and each of 33 market-relevant categories.
